

End Times and Divine Sovereignty

[Music] Hi there folks. Welcome to the A Minute to Midnight Show and I'm coming to you from New Zealand. My name's Tony if you don't already know. I'm sure most of you do by now. With me today on the show, I have somebody who, well, the last time who was on the show was by far and away the most popular show I've done in ages. So, um, I am very glad to be able to bring back again today Jamie Walden. So, Jamie, thank you so much for taking the time to um, speak to me today. As I just said, last time I had you on the show a few months ago, it just was off the charts in terms of how many views and likes and whatever we got. Yeah, I know. It's good to be with you again, brother. I appreciate you having me on. And I'm glad you emailed me and said, "Hey, you ready to go in 30 minutes?" I was literally out on a run and I got the email. You know, I was running with earbuds in. I was like, "Oh, crud. I got to get back." So then I'm like literally sprinting. I'm like drenched in sweat right now and my lungs are burning because I'm like I got to get back for Tony. I totally wasn't paying attention to the time. So anyways, man. Yeah, it's good to be on with you again, brother. There's always a lot going on and you know, even like you saying about the last show show we did together that that uh uh it was something apparently people um were ready to hear or needed to hear and I don't even remember what we talked about. And it's one of those things where these the different nuances of what's breaking out into our coper reality are happening with such increased intensity that it is it is hard to remember, you know, even what was going on a week ago because there's so many things filling the the the news cycles or the the burgeoning on the scene at such a breakneck speed. We're almost at a point now where it's kind of you get whiplash and being able to keep up with it all. And there's part of me that thinks I mean it's totally speculation. I have nothing to back this up. But I'm like is this the this biblical speeding up of time? You know, I mean we know that just what was it last week? No, maybe it was two or three weeks ago now. You know, I was all over in the mainstream media about the Earth speeding up. you know, it was by fractions of a second, but speeding up enough to where, you know, it's throwing off some of the different very finite atomic based clocks that are necessary for doing all kinds of different precision work. And I'm like, man, is it is I'm going, Lord, is this what it like? You said a third of the day and a third of the night are going to be shortened. Is this like the initiation of things where there is going to be speeding up a time? And I don't know about you, brother, but I hear it all the time in our church body and the different people that I'm in intimate fellowship and relationship with when they're like, "Man, it just seems like time is going so fast. I can't reconcile it. There's something off about time, about the weeks, about the days, about the whatever." And and you know, you think is are we more distracted because of technology? are we more busy because of we have the ability to basically work continually now because because of the advent of technology and uh you know the more and more I talk to people are like no something's off you know and even I'm going the moon's not where it's supposed to be I don't know how many times I said that to my wife like I look at the moon and the stars every night because I just worship you know I I I just give thanks to the Lord and just think of the awesomeness of the perfection of his creation so I'm consistently fixated on the sun and moon and stars because the Lord is, you know, and it's one of the primary markers and displays of of his perfection of sovereignty and and perfect order and wisdom and all these different aspects of God. And so I I I'm not like a fly by night guy that just randomly looks up. Like every night I intentionally uh look at the the moon and the stars. And I've been saying for about the last year, the moon is not where it's supposed to be. And these different constellations are off compared to where I always see them every night. And then you have this speeding up of time, you know, along with all the different uh uh we'll call it um catastrophism going on over the face of the earth, whether it's fires or deluge or floodings or the earthquakes or the volcanism. Uh different things going on with the magnetosphere and CMEs, the coronal mass ejection, uh you know, thing with pole wandering, pole shifting, all that. There's so many things going on right now that it is hard to truly uh keep up and and uh compartmentalize all the different varying data points in a way that you can collectively put together a macro picture of what's going on and where we're at. And more importantly, you know, the only thing I really care about the end of the day, I know we we can always talk about all kinds of fascinating, interesting, and preient stuff, but at the end of the day, it's it's Lord, what what would you have me doing? And God, what do you want to sanctify to me in my heart? And Lord, like what do you want to reveal in me and expose in me and have me, you know, uh uh put on the altar that you can consume with your holy fire, God? Like because of the breakneck speed and this convergence of all these different things, it's just leading me more and more to to be, you know, incredibly circumspect and doing business with a holy God, you know, every day just like, oh God, like the it's going down. I mean, it's going down. And what would you have your people do to make much of your son and of the gospel and of the forgiveness of sins with the time that we have left? So, I know that that's what's been on my radar a lot lately, for sure. Sounds good. Yeah. You mentioned the stars and the moon and that's it. I've never really like done it consistently and paid attention. But it was funny because I was at my cabin the other day and and this was a super clear night and the moon and the stars and I had that thought. I don't do it often enough, you know, to be able to go, "Ah, now this time last year things were here or there." But I did think I was thinking I'm sure that didn't used to be quite there you know like and and and so I you know hearing you say that it's like interesting that I had that same thought. I mean it's at it's at the place for me because u just my background you know I mean my I spent the majority of my life operating at night. That's what we do. you know, for your listeners, I'm uh you know, from Marine Corps infantry, a sergeant in the Marine Corps infantry and did law enforcement and and uh and some other careers, fire, EMS, and couple different things. And I so I still love going out on night patrols with night vision and stuff like that. And I train my kids on it and blah blah blah. So, just to try to at least keep some degree of sharpness of of operating in those dark spaces. So because I'm consistently uh utilizing either night visions, you know, which works off of ambient light or also thermal devices uh at nighttime, I'm very attuned to ambient light coming from the celestial bodies, you know, and and the even the different phases of the moon. It's one thing coming from a military background that we're very in tune to. I mean, weather is everything. Most people aren't aware that there are actually tier one operators, special forces operators that are meteorologists. And in fact, the uh the tier one meteorologist, they generally come out of the air force uh wing of the US military. They are uh some of the most important guys in any battle space is your special forces meteorology because everything we do is dictated based on weather, weather patterns, celestial alignments, tides, tidal charts, ambient light, uh you know, all the different uh functions of earth sciences with regards to to weather. And so we're kind of hyper attuned to that reality because it dictates what we can do and what we can't do, how we can move, how we can operate, when we can insert, when we can extract, how much time do we have on target. A lot of stuff is dictated by what the sun I mean what the moon and the stars are doing when we're operating at night. And I and so I say this from kind of maybe I mean obviously I'm not like an an I'm not an amateur astronomer or anything like that. I'm just in tune to the outdoor reality because I've spent 20 years of my young adult life. I don't think I ever slept in a bed for a very long time, but always being outside. So, you you have that much more heightened awareness of what this stuff is doing consistently. You have kind of a longitudinal statistical, you know, data point to be aware of your surroundings and it's just off. And so then as I dig into because I'm just a nerd at heart I guess or whatever. As I'm digging into these different earth sciences things breaking out right now in real time even the secular academic and scientific community especially meteorological or you know the astrophysicist or the the geologist you know the vulcanologist and the seismologist anything with anologist at the end because apparently they're super important people. They're they're all saying the same thing, too. Like, dude, something's wrong. Something's wrong. Something's wrong. And I'm going, well, from a biblical worldview, nothing is wrong. Nothing is out of order. Nothing is out of whack. Everything is exactly to the perfection of detail. What Christ Jesus and the holy scriptures and those inspired by the ancient days to write the scriptures, it's exactly what they said it would be and what they said was going to transpire. So, uh, it's just it's the scientific community who, uh, doesn't have the spirit of living God, the majority of them anyways, they're not able to rightly connect these dots in a way that that gives them understanding. So, as the scripture says, they're walking around in consistent perplexities. It says men will be perplexed there. There will be a perplexity looking after these things that are coming onto the earth. Whether it's the waves and the roaring of the seas or the earthquakes and famines in diverse places, right? And the wars and rumors of wars and all these different aspects of Luke 21, Matthew 24 and Mark 13, Luke 12 elsewhere, obviously the entirety of the book of Revelation and some of the other major and minor prophets speaking to these things. And uh it's one of those things where, you know, the the Lord burdened me and gave me a word a couple I I guess maybe just six weeks ago about why this stuff was happening. And you may have heard it, Tony. I don't know if you did or not. Um it's it's irrelevant, but what the Lord told me was the water has broken and like I'm coming soon. My reward is with me. The water is breaking. The birth pains have begun. You're going to only ever see from here on out an increase of intensity and frequency of all these different catastrophebased events and humanistic, right, with wars and and you know the the economic collapse stuff transpiring or whatever. You're going to see an increase in intensity and frequency from here on out, right, until the new life is birthed. Like this is it. Like it's beginning. I don't know what that means. I don't pretend to know the timelines. I wouldn't ever speculate on the timelines. I mean, we have God's we have some empirical objective data points in scripture, whether it's with regards to the Abramic covenant or sorry, I shouldn't even say that to the to the covenant with many of Daniel 9 that gets confirmed, which that's going on in real time right now too with the Abramic covenant and the dividing of Israel or you know the different aspects of times, times and half a time, 1260 days, 42 months. Um, there are some timelines that we can have at least a generalization of a knowing of the season. But as far as the reality of how this is going to play out, I don't know. I know it's like it's like there's a 25% of the world is burning while, you know, 25% of the world is underwater while 25% of the world is experiencing radical earthquakes while there's more volcanoes currently erupting than ever than ever in human history. And then we just had the last uh puppet show holographic projection theatrical thing with Trump and Putin as a last little diplomatic checkbox before we go to kinetic war with the armies of the east. So it's kind of like everything is literally coming in to its convergence right now. And you know, and I know you have, Tony, and and and I'm a beneficiary of of a lot of great uh men of God and women of God that have been teaching about these things for decades with everybody mocking them and scoffing them. But and then, you know, I know you've been speaking to it for years. Uh by God's grace, you know, he's opened my eyes to it and allowed me to to speak to it for for several years now. And now it's at a point though where it's like, oh my goodness, it's actually happening. everything was like you can kind of see through a glass dimly. You can kind of smell it in the air, right? That something is getting ready to change. And it does seem really legitimately since 2020. But more importantly, even within the last 6 months, that all of a sudden it's like a seal got broken. I'm not talking about the seal of revelation. I'm just saying a seal holding back things has been broken. And it's the amount of catastrophic events and even social and political upheaval that has been occurring in the last six months is truly perplexing. And as I tell people all the time, we ain't seen nothing yet. That's that's the most the most dumbfounding thing is like we haven't even seen I mean I have relative I just went jogging, you know, like my kids got ice cream yesterday or whatever. like there's still a lot of freedom and a lot of joy and a lot of goodness and a lot of wholesome things and and pleasant things that that the Lord's allowed us to enjoy. We haven't seen anything yet, but and and at the same time, it's all changing and breaking out. So, it's really hard to kind of reconcile these things. even knowing the word, knowing the scriptures, seeking to walk intimately with the Lord, there still is a perplexity and a foreboing uh after these things coming onto the earth. Yeah. Well, absolutely things have changed and ramped up. I don't think there's any doubt about it in in many directions. I think one of the questions that I have or questions that I get too is how much of it is natural occurring you know and God doing things and how much of it is man-made you know when we see things with the weather people going oh that that's harp doing it and cloud seeding and chemtrails and all that and then and with the fires people you know forest fires oh these arsonists lighting the fires and and it's very hard to be able to pinpoint point things and how much of it is this is the end times and God is God's doing it sovereignly or how much of it is God letting man do and I don't know what your thoughts are on it because to me it's a little bit of a minefield to be able to you hear so many different opinions and to be able to really put it in a nutshell and say well it's because of this this or this so what are your thoughts yeah and that that's that's a common thing that I get too you know and even a lot of people that that can be kind of uh uh abusive or full of conceit with regards to their opinions on that because it's it's actually it's not a knock on them. I mean, it's the human condition. It's normal human psychology. Yeah. We want an instate. That's why we love math. Like it's it's definitive, right? And so the human psychological perspective on these things is they want it to be able to be wrapped up nice and neat with a little bow on it so that we can understand it. And so they want it to be either or. But what they don't understand is the totality of God's revealed character is not an either or. It's a both and. It's both and. And so they're actually symbiotic and they're not divorced from one another. Man-made. Yes. ELF, EMF, HARP, different aspects. CERN spinning back up, right? We have uh the ability to generate earthquakes to trigger earthquakes with particular uh waveform. uh ELF is extremely low waveform frequencies that they can get some of these uh um subduction zones to slip uh crystal plate displacement and slipping and stuff like that. Uh we have tsunami generating capabilities with different types of rep weaponry. Uh yes, the cloud seating absolutely 100%. you know, the ability to to micro burst aspects of the jetream or to superheat things through again microwave based technologies on broad scales to say superheat the Mediterranean Sea which is happening in real time. It's like becoming like a a a hot tub. The water's so hot which throws off all your different uh biomes and ecosystems and again that hydro conveyor which is so critical to every aspect of our day-to-day reality. Yes, they can do that. But what we what we can't dismiss is that the Lord allows them to do that. See, it's not an either or. It's a both and because he's actually said that they're going to be caught in their own devices and the plotters and the schemers and the manipulators and blah blah. It talks about how he's going to judge those who messed with his creation because they tampered with his creation. But he also says the pit that they dig, they're going to fall into. They're going to be caught in their own devices. They're going to be whatever. So, we're kind of at a point now where it's like God is allowing them to a degree to have the consequences of some of these aspects that they think they can control because they want to be like God, which means creating and manipulating these mega processes that they should not even be going anywhere near. So, that's a Genesis 3. This is a luciferian, you know, hubristic nature on the one side, but on the other side, God's allowing them. And then God acts as well too. Like God is the one who put those fault lines where they are. God's the one who put the the different lava tubes in the in the different trenches within the oceans where they're supposed to be. He's the one who put the volcanism where it's supposed to be. He's the one who can dictate whether or not uh you know the atmospheric river is going to dump or it's not going to dump or do whatever. God is sovereign. So the thing is is what happens when kind of in the tr Christian truther movement is they get so fixated on the enemy and the powers of darkness. So hyperfixated which I get it we need to speak to those things and expose those things and truth is that they they by default unwittingly reduce the sovereignty of God amid all that. A man can can calamity come upon a nation unless the Lord has decreed it. No. That's a facicious question from God. You know, it says rain falls on the righteous and the wicked alike. Like God is sovereign all these things. It says he goes out in the whirlwind when in the storm. Like at the breath of his nostrils, the mountains melt like wax. Like at the in his presence, the mountains quake before him and the earth splits aunder. So we can't reduce the sovereignty of God just because man is capable of these things. actually in the sovereignty and wisdom of God, he allows them to fill their cup of iniquity to fill it to the full brimming to overflow and then they get to experience the consequences of that. And so it gets to the point too when we look at it biblically is that so that man including his own people can no longer be dismissive of what's going on the reality what's going on and keep blaming man for for the Christian truthers and and for truthers period and the consp the the more conspiracy leaning which I am I'm not I'm not saying that as a derog derogatory term it really is a conspiracy right so so that they can't dismiss it anymore. And then also so that we'll say the liberal left lunatics can't dismiss it anymore with their uh I don't know how to say it so you won't get banned on YouTube or whatever. But saying that it's man-made stuff, right? Like because of us, because of our carbon footprint, because of whatever the changing of the weather because of man, there's another word for that that'll get you kicked off of YouTube in a heartbeat. They can't dismiss it. The truther movement can't dismiss it. and even the global wicked elite can't dismiss it anymore. He's going to get to the point, which we're right on the cusp of where it's all astral catastrophism so that nobody can diminish and dismiss where the source of all this judgment is coming from. It's going to be coming from outer space or whatever. You know, uh I don't care if you subscribe to a flat earth. I don't care if you're heliocentric. It doesn't matter. you're we're going to get to a point that you're not going to be able to deny that it's God judging the earth because he's going to shake not only the earth but also the heavens and the earth so that that which cannot be shaken will be left remaining. So there'll be no excuse and in fact even biblically when you look at revelation especially from the sixth seal on when they get when they get busted is that they shake their fist at the heavens and curse God. So that tells you they unequivocally know the source of their afflictions through the earth changes and stuff going on. They know 100% it's God. They just won't bow their knee and repent to him. You know, it's the same thing even with the two witnesses. They know 100% it's God. They just won't bow their knee and repent and confess him and allow him to be Lord of their lives. And they shake their fist at the heavens. So he says he's going to change the sun, the moon, the stars, uh third of the moon, a third of the sun or a third of the day, a third of the night. Uh this the you know the sun being darkened, the moon being blood red and blah blah blah. That this astro catastrophism in a way like trees ripening around a fig tree falling from the sky, a great mountain of fire cast down, wormwood, right? A third of the trees, a third of the grass, a third of the fish, a third of the ships burned. and and it goes on and on and on with the veracity and the undeniable nature of the judgments that it can only be attributed to a holy all powerful God, the God Yahweh Elohim who we serve and we know through his son Jesus Christ now been made manifest to us. Uh they will know absolutely the source. So they won't be blaming harp anymore. There's going to come a point where even the Christian truthers as as sincere as they are seeking to expose these things, they're still kind of by default on accident unwittingly diminishing God's sovereignty and they're giving they're actually magnifying the powers of darkness rather than going God is in control. God is sovereign. He allows them to walk these things out. He'll raise up a Pharaoh. He'll raise up a conv Nebuchadnezzar. He'll raise up a Belshazar. Then he'll raise up a Cyrus. They don't raise up an articer. They don't raise up a Joseph and they don't raise up a David. They don't like nothing's out of whack. Like if President Trump is walking out something, it's because the Lord is sovereign. If Putin or Netanyahu is walking out something, it's because the Lord is sovereign. If the prince of Persia is allowed to gain limited, you know, whatever effects against the holy land of Israel, his covenanted people, it's because he allows it. There is perfect sovereignty at all times. Nothing is out of control. And I think that's one of the most key attributes to understand especially as believers in Jesus Christ as the cataclysms increase again like we said with both frequency and intensity because they are I mean dude I don't I don't know if you saw what happened in Pakistan just last night and two more volcanoes started erupting last night. last night our time. I know we're on completely different time frames from New Zealand to Colorado, but um the reality of these things is is God's people should be secure, steadfast, resilient, firm, unashamed, never unhinged, courageous, bold, resilient. Psalm 112, we're not of those who fear bad news. They are not easily shaken. Even in darkness, light dawns for the upright in heart. They have no fear. Their hearts are steadfast. They have no fear. Their hearts are secure. That is what the redeeming of the Lord is supposed to look like because we go, "Yeah, oh my goodness, the New Madrid just popped off or Cascadia subduction or the uh or the uh what is it? The Peru uh Chile subduction zone or the Nazca plate just po whatever is going on." Or, oh my goodness, did you see the Pides uh meteor shower on August 12th? I mean, we sat out. We went out at night to make sure and watch it because God is testifying to his glory and to his sovereignty. I'm not fearful of these things. I mean, there's normal physiological wonderings, you know, maybe there's a little bit of dopamine release as you're like, what is happening and what comes next? Sure, that's normal. We're human beings. There can be normal physiological maybe like tinges of fear responses, but at the end of the day, if we're in Christ Jesus, we like the birth painans. The reason why they're called birth painans is because you should be in eager anticipation of new life, which is a new heaven and a new earth where God will dwell among his people and he will be our God and we will be his people. And it says, "Never will we depart from his rest and there will be pleasures at his right hand forever more." So for those who are in Christ Jesus, as we're seeing these things, even World War II, which is going to happen, transpire overlay with all this different cataclysmic based stuff, uh our hearts should not be shaken by these things. We have the word. We have the Holy Spirit. We've been bought and sealed with the precious blood of Jesus Christ. And we have a hope that will never disappoint. And we have an inheritance that's being kept in heaven for us where it is spotless, unspoiled, and unfading. And God has promised, that living hope, he's going to guard us to it by his own power. So what in the world are we worried about? Let the unbelieving world be unhinged. Let us be courageous, bold, and steadfast and give a very public witness and testimony to the reality that we know our God and we are strong in heart and we are strong in spirit. Yes, we're aware of all this stuff. I'm aware of men. I'm aware of what the fallen angels are doing. I'm aware what the powers of darkness are doing. I'm aware of the transhumanism and the emerging technologies and blah blah. I'm aware of all of it. But I'm I'm also even more so aware of the love, the power, the wisdom, the grace, the majesty, the sovereignty, and the supremacy of the Lord God Almighty through his son Jesus Christ. That's what I'm more aware of than all that other stuff. Well spoken. So you know I see people even in amongst Christian circles say if we just get this person in office in politics you know we can have a reprieve or we can hold back the new world order or whatever which is no because actually the Bible timeline we can't change it. God has set out a timeline and he knows when it plays out how it plays out. We can't change it. we're not God and putting some political person in power that it's it's still going to follow the trajectory that God has us on and and we are heading deeper and deeper into the end times I believe. So it's it is interesting having said that well I I you know I totally believe God is fully in control of this all but I'm noticing with the we had the whole uh man's cla uh changing the climate business pushing that big time and you could see oh lockdowns for that and all that sort of thing u potentially coming but isn't it really interesting as AI develops now and they're needing to build these huge data data centers and you realize that each of those data centers is going to use more electricity than a large city. Um that they've suddenly gone to okay they realize they're going to have to generate so much more electricity to power these data centers. So that kind of argument is a little bit gone off silently now. You know the oh we've got to stop um generating electricity through coal or oil or whatever. It's I'm noticing there's less talk on that now because basically they just got to do whatever they can to get enough electricity to power the beast system which is being well and we have to understand that they play that they play a long game. It's kind of like the idea with the with the great deception, you know, and even uh whether it's ET, UAP, you know, whatever base deceptions with reverse engineered craft and and emerging technologies is they play the long game with the insertion of Darwinian evolutionary theory, which by the way, uh Madame Botssky and Darwin's grandfathers were best friends of whom we get theosophy through Alice Bailey and the initiation the UN under Lucia's trust. So that they play this long game. So Darwinian evolution is this whole long game to get like a 150 to 200 year game to get to the concept to sew the seeds for the great deception. Right. But it's the same thing on this side of the house with like what you're talking about with the energy requirements of AI and these AI uh fusion centers and data collocation centers. Some are even under the ocean. actually a lot are under the ocean because of the the cooling requirements of them and stuff like that. But they had to play this long game of carbon footprint. Uh I remember even in elementary school, so you're talking 35 years ago or whatever where they're telling you, oh, save the animals, endangered species, blah blah, love the earth, guy worship, all like they started that that long ago. Yeah. to get to the point for you to understand that it that for you to conceptualize in your subconscious, right? It's a subconscious understanding about a depopulation agenda. A reductionism in your willingness to have children. This comes into the feminist movement is about depopulation. Obviously, birth control depopulation. LGBT movement depopulation. Uh all uh women in the workforce depopulation. a dual income house to be able to sustain a mediocre uh level of lifestyle is depopulation agenda. Uh the sterilizations through stuff in your body going on all over the world depopulation and even the whole idea of this weather system change we'll say for lack of a better word is to get you to concede to a greater depopulation. So as they roll out these AI based things and that are replacing humanity all over the face of the earth and this idea that you need to reduce your energy, it's actually all because they already knew what they were going to roll out with this AI uh revolution 60 years ago. I mean I remember there's patents on AI and they were rolling out AI in the 60s. I actually talked to a guy who worked on one of the initial uh um what's it called? programming I don't even know that world right the programming software for a AI is not new not new at all it's been learning and learning and learning and learning and learning developing so the reason why they're able to now pivot from carbon no electricity no EVs yes all this like kill yourself harm yourself do whatever yourself shut yourself down 50-minute cities don't drive don't do whatever like all these regional controls because of energy crisis and energy crisis it was a faint maneuver to to justify a global depopulation agenda which is still happening in real time. We no longer in the US we have no viable population because I think the replacement is supposed to be 2.3 kids per household to maintain a baseline of population. I think we're now at 1.7 children per household collectively which means we are no longer a viable society. Europe was no longer a viable society almost a decade ago. They were no longer viable society. But now the reason why they're not talking about energy is bad anymore is because they're getting ready to reduce the population so significantly that the energy systems that are already online won't be being sucked down by humanity. It will all be being used by these AI meta centers, which is why you have self-checkout at Walmart and you have self-checkout at McDonald's and you have self-checkout here. And uh Amazon's talking about how I don't know what it was, don't quote me on the stat, but it was stupid high. Like 80% of all Amazon employees will be replaceable within the next two years because of AI and robotics. So they don't need people. And when you don't need people anymore, you're free to go ahead and maybe, you know, initiate a little limited nuclear exchange with World War II. Maybe you're not so worried about sending in assets for different a uh uh catastrophes that are happening. Maybe you're willing to initiate catastrophes in particular areas that has rare earth minerals that are going to really benefit your data collection centers. So you see when you see it from a macro, that's why these narratives pivot so hard all the time. If the narrative was convenient for the time to lay the groundwork for a pendulum swing for the narrative that you're now going to roll out over here. And that's why it's so hard for people that are tossed to and fro. And this is why it's also so easy for the global elite that one are demonically infused, but two also have the world's leading psychologists and sociologists and blah blah blah and anthropologists. They understand human psychology. So they can send you a Democrat over here and they're going to sew the seeds here because they're looking 10 12 years down the road when they're going to put this guy in power over here and then that's going to undergard the pendulum swing that they need over here. And they're playing us like a fiddle, literally master puppeteers 247. And unfortunately most people can't see the force through the trees. So then they're emotionally reactionary all the time. And even that emotional reactionaryism, I don't even know know if that's a word, plays right into their hand. They they want they want the the uh male versus female, black versus white, heterosexual versus homosexual, the whatever versus whatever, the globalists versus the nationalists, the Democrats versus the Republicans, the the the rich against the poor. It's divide and conquer strategy. And all the while, they're always getting the next step that they intended to get all along the way. So, even this power stuff, it's such a joke. Such a joke that Putin, you know, I I think Trump's meeting with Zilinski right now, uh, here in the United States, it's a joke. It's all theatrics. What's going on with we're going to send weapons? No, we're not going to send weapons. It's theatrics for the masses, but all the while they are achieving every little detail that they want to accomplish along the way. Yeah, I agree. You know, and you're talking about laying the foundations years ago for things. I I was just I was just thinking back to 1927. There was a movie called Metropolis where if you look at that movie basically it's laying out so many of the things like you've got Luciferianism with a baff up inverted pentagram and all that in there. You've got transhumanism, you've got sacrifices to mollock that the whole thing it's like 100 well 90s in the 20s. Yeah. in the 20s you think oh you know like society was so much more whatever peer or it's like really have you studied the roaring 20s that was the breakout of theosophy and all spiritualism I mean it's hedenism which is actually a religion hedenism is a religion and we have been hedonistic you can actually go as far back as as right in the US history is is a a civil war era so you know and for the listeners they don't know I have background in history. I have a degree in history. That's why these things are always on the tip of my pea brain because it's so fascinating to me to see the longitudinal games that they've been playing. So even the initiation of global collective hive mind manipulation began in the mid 1800s. This is not a small game. And then you can back up even more to, you know, Adam Wesop and Sir Fran Francis Bacon and these other ideas of Plato's Republic in the Atlantean age, the golden dawn. Sound familiar? The golden age of the golden like these things have been in play since realistically the late 1600s. The late 1600s. And then that's why you get the American Revolution into the French Revolution and to the American cultural revolution and to the global collective highmind revolution into the AI revolution. It's all been very very systematic long game. So when I when I use language like convergent zenith uh I don't say that because it's fanciful and it just makes me sound like I'm trying to be you know whatever wordy or something. I say it because that's what it actually is. If you have this macro panorama of how we got here today. So it it what what the Luciferian elite and the global elite and even the pastors want you to do is they want you to fixate on the temporal on the momentary on the this second so that you can never rightly be a freethinker and and actually understand the totality of what's going on. This is why even pastors do their little sound bite seek secret friendly, you know, uh, cotton candy sugarcoated sermons so that you'll never actually go beyond what they're saying by digging into the scriptures for yourself and wake up and stop feeding their flesh by giving them money and filling their crappy mega churches church seats, you know? So like they intentionally want to keep you living in the present positive encouraging kale Christianity. That's where they want to keep you. Same thing with the global elite. Same exact thing. So, uh, as Christians then, you know, listening to this, what do you suggest that people do? Like, we've got to obviously have our focus on the Lord. How does that work out in practical steps? Uh, when we still got to be here in this world until such times as the Lord, you know, takes us home or whatever. Yeah. Well, actually it one of the biggest things is is to change our perspective and our paradigm and start looking at things with eternal eyes and not temporal. That's the biggest. And we've been trained to look at everything again with that that microwave mentality of the temporal instead of with eternal eyes. Like we serve a king in a kingdom that's never going to be shaken. We have an inheritance like I already said cuped in heaven. There is a coming king and a coming king kingdom. And actually biblically it's very very detailed in the way that it's described including you know like the new Jerusalem and it's the size and it's this cubis and it's that and then you're going to see this and then you're going to see that and then you're going to see that and this is what it's going to look like and this is how it's going to operate. These are the the the modalities of the kingdom and these are different aspects of it and what's going to happen every year and then how the governors are going to rule and they're going to rule here and they're going to do this and do that. We ought to be studying that and fixated on that more than we are anything on this life, you know. And so really having an eternal perspective and a fixation of of on eternity is one of the greatest safeguards to our heart. I mean that's why it says, you know, our light and momentary afflictions are achieving in us an eternal way to glory that far outweighs everything else. So we fix our eyes not on what is seen but on what is unseen. For what is seen is temporary, but what is unseen is eternal. It also says these light and momentary afflictions are achieved in you. Oh, wait, no, I just said that one. But there there's another verse that talks about, you know, the glory that's going to be revealed. the glory that's going to be revealed, those who endure to the end, those who do this. Like, so operating out from an eternal perspective rather than a temporal about the sufferings and the nuances and the government sound bites of the day and the truther sound bites of the day and the whatever you know intel drop of the day. When we are looking at the eternal perspective, it really does guard our hearts. It fills us with peace, right? A peace that surpasses all understanding. we prayer, supplication, and thanksgiving, and then peace that surpasses all understanding. Um, we're looking forward to a a city who whose maker is God. We know that this world isn't even worthy of us. So, we don't really consider that. That's why that's why the apostle says they're light and momentary afflictions. They hurt. They cut. They're deep. There's woundings. There's abuse. There's childhood sex abuse. There's hopes deferred that make your heart sick. There's divorces. There's betrayals. There's a bodies failing us. There's governments failing us. But when you have an eternal perspective, they don't have that much weight. They have weight, but not that much weight. So, even as we see these things breaking out, we're going, man, like I already talked about birth pains. Oh man, that contraction was hard. Oh man, that contraction is hard. Oh, that contraction is getting more and more intense. Oh my goodness, this is hurting really bad. But you know that all you got to do is get through that last push and then new life is on the scene. New life forever more. And that is why it's so critical to walk with that eternal perspective all the time. Even when the nuances of interpersonal conflict, you know, it's like, okay, yeah, you want to malign, you want to slander, you want to bear false witness, whatever. So, discord, do what? I mean, yeah, that sucks, man. I Nobody wants to be on the receiving end of that. But at the end of the day, you're like, whatever, dude. Like, do whatever you're going to do. Say whatever you're going to say. Even like Jesus with Judas, go do whatever you're going to do quickly, bro. Like, just go do it. I'm not worried about it. I don't want it. I don't like it. I don't p prefer it. I if there's if it's possible, let this cup pass from me. But at the end of the day, you know what? Not my will be done, but your will be done, father. For the joy set before him, Christ endured the cross. So, do you think it's for the joy set before us that we can endure all these things? Absolutely. But that m that means that you must know and understand and fix your eyes on that which is set before you which is every tear wiped away which is no more sorrow no more pain rest forever more joy in his presence never departing from it a new heaven a new earth like God dwelling with men and all these wonderful things that must mean that you if you want to have joy and be able to navigate this without being unhinged That means you have to have a fixation on what is set before you and that is the coming of our king and everything that he brings with them. That's the only way to navigate this reality. Amen. Um, awesome. I absolutely agree. Okay, so as we wrap up, Jamie, if people want to find you online or in Colorado, how do they do that? Yeah, they can find me online at omegaamics.org. That's omegaynnamics.org. And then also uh on YouTube just under Jamie Walden. And I think there's a backup channel on Rumble that stuff gets uploaded to because I I mean it's only a matter of time before I'm going to be deplatformed. It's it's a certainty. Uh so yeah, as long as as long as the Lord allows, we'll just keep proclaiming the good news. And and actually that's the reality of this stuff that I think people need to wrap their minds around as and and Christ said it. So I'm not that I don't have to speculate on what our posture should be. He says in Luke 21, when you begin to see all these things taking place, you stand up and you look up because your redemption draws nigh. I mean, we we ought to have a little bit of an excitement. Not like a like a sadist or a psychopath about all the hard stuff coming on, but like for real, like the Lord's coming. Like no more pedophilia, no more divorces, no more fractured identities, no more wars, no more perversions, no more genetic manipulations, no more creation groaning inwardly longing for the sons of glory to be revealed because it's been subjected to a curse. Like no more lies, no more deceit. The the serpent, the Satan, and the beast, and everything with them are going to be bound eventually forever more. And they will never be allowed to do what they've been doing for the last 6,000 years. So, as we begin to see all these things taking place, we can't stand up and look up with a heart filled to overflowing being like, "Praise God, Jesus is coming soon." Amen and amen. Yeah, absolutely. Well, that there's a lot of food for thought in what you've shared today and and generally, you know, people should be encouraged as you say and and not looking fearful. Uh, so I think you've done a really good job of pointing that out to people today that no matter what's going on, we shouldn't be fearful, but we should be looking to the Lord with eyes of anticipation. So that was very greatly taken points today. So, thank you for so much for being on the show and I'm very glad we were able to organize this today. Yeah, thanks for having me on, Tony. It's always awesome, bro. Stay in the fight, man. You're doing good stuff. And you, too. And we must do this again soon. Yeah, thanks brother. Thanks for having me on. Cheers. Thanks, Jamie. Folks, please remember to like and share this video and also make sure you subscribe to us. And we do run a minute to midnight 100% by donations. Any donations are always greatly appreciated. And I say thank you to the folks that do help us. Um, we really couldn't do it without your help. And if you do want to donate to us, you can do that at our website, a minutetomidnight.com. There's a donation page there at the website and make sure you subscribe to us at a minuteight.com as well. And the music used in the shows I've written, played, and recorded as well. So, God bless and God willing, we will be back with another episode in a few days time. [Music]
