

JW - End Time Signs.

I'll take any questions or concerns or comments or things going on from spiritually to geopolitically to strategically to occultism, powers of darkness or marriages or health issues or anything else in between. We can pretty much cover just about any ground that's out there. So we'll do that as we get going.

But here's what I wanted to talk about real briefly today. As I think about Revelation and obviously see all this manifold convergence, right? Right. I kind of have my little quip thing about this convergent zenith of all these things coming into this culmination within our corporate reality. There's a misconceptionally appropriate response to this. That's what I want to address. A completely inappropriate, is that the right word? Misappropriate. Inappropriate. Wrong. Wrong.

There's a wrong response from the people of God to these things that we see burgeoning on the on the on the face of the earth. And I want to address that real quick because I'm realizing that there's some significant breakdown and what we've known and understood about the revelation of Jesus Christ. Everybody understand that it's the revelation. It's not revelations, by the way. It is revelation. It is a singularity. It It's so I I love language if you can't tell. It's so funny to watch the transhumanism. Transhumanists talk about the singularity. Well, the singularity, the singularity, the singularity, right? The internet of things into the internet of body. And it's this convergence of the singularity. What do they call the omega point or whatever all these freak show newager occultic practitioners, theosophist, whatever freemasons and illuminous and everybody in between are looking for this omega point unto the singularity. And it's so hilarious to me that they use that language as if they are, you know, claiming to be wise. They became fools, right? Claiming to be wise in this thing.

Christ Jesus is the singularity. Yes, he is the singularity of everything. Everything was made for him, through him, and unto him. Can you find anything more singular than Christ Jesus alone? Why do you think the whole world hates him? Nobody uses Muhammad for a cuss word, do they? They'll go, "Oh, Muhammad." Why don't they do that? Why is there only one name that's used as a derogatory curse name on the face of the earth? Every language uses it. Did you know that? They don't say, "Oh, Muhammad." When they stub their toe, they say, "Jesus Christ." Isn't that interesting? Because he is the singularity. That's why. And there's a war of understanding of this singularity.

There's literally war of singularities. Transhuman humanist versus the redeemed bloodbought warriors of Christ Jesus himself. This divergence. Um, and it's interesting to see how we don't even understand the revelation of Jesus Christ. If you pay attention, and I know I've addressed this multiple times, all throughout Revelation through the entire book of Revelation, and then you can go visit the major prophets, you can visit the minor prophets, you can visit the epistles, you can visit the teachings of Christ Jesus himself, the red letters, you can look at the words of the apostle Paul and of Peter and of James and of John and elsewhere, and anything revolving the judgment of God over the inhabitants of the earth and the fullness of the revelation of Jesus Christ.

And there is only one response ever, ever in all of scripture. Do you know what it is? Do you guys know what it is? Worship. That's the only response that every individual has who knows their God who is talking about the judgment of God over the face of the earth and the inhabitants of the earth is worship. Just read the book of Revelation for itself. Not to mention all the other things they just mentioned. They only respond in one way. They only respond in one way after mystery Babylon is lay waste. They only respond in one way as finally the one who is worthy to open the seals starts popping seals and the trumpets start blaring, right? And then the bold judgments come and then what and the three sets of sevens come and the seven trumpets and the seven and as these things are breaking out one after the next after the next after the next.

Pay attention to your scriptures. There is only one response the entire time. Praise and glory and worship. Praise God. Praise God. Praise God. He is judging the earth. And what is the response of the church in this late hour? Oh God. Oh God. Oh God. It's wrong. It is so wrong how much we lack understanding about who our God actually is and what this revelation means. That's why the Apostle Paul says, "...speed it's coming." Not only you look forward to it, not only are you in eager anticipation of it, you ought to be speeding its coming. I don't even know what that means, but I know we're supposed to be partakers of it.

Of the harvest and of exposing the darkness, and walking in the light, and revealing a light and holding out the hope for which we have and testifying before men, anything to speed this coming. Because if you knew what the revelation was, there wouldn't be a single person who goes, "Oh God, oh God, oh God." You just go, "Praise God. Praise God." And they fell down and worship. And they fell down in worship. And they fell down in worship. every judgment on the face of the earth, they only respond one way.

Not, "Oh God, please relent." They're like, "Oh God, all glory and honor and power and majesty and dominion be yours both now and forever more. Praise God. Praise." And then they throw their crowns and then they fall on their faces. And even the dudes that have been beheaded for the testimony of Jesus Christ are in the front row. Yeah. Just praising God. Praising God. Not going, "When are you going to avenge us?" They're like, "No, he's going to avenge us. That's why we praise him." The foundations of his throne, our righteousness and justice. That's why we're going to praise him. He's He's not his unfailing love didn't fail us even in death. Praise God. Because they've seen the revelation of Jesus Christ. Amen.

Psalms 97 says, this is interesting, what we talked about for our call to worship. First sentence, the Lord reigns. Is there any questions? What's going on here? Any questions? Does CERN reign? Do the power elite reign? Do the transhumanists reign? The artificial wombs being created in Japan reign and the central bank digital currencies reign? And AI, what's this genesis mission Trump's rolling out? And Palantir and open AI.

Does this stuff reign? Who reigns? My God reigns. So, so simple. He laughs and he scoffs at all the machinations of both men and devils. I love that posture of God. He laughs and he scoffs and then he terrifies them in his wrath by giving public testimony that he reigns. I have installed my son on Zion my holy hill. That's it. That's all he has to say. That is the end of the verdict. The gavel has been dropped. I have installed my son on Zion my holy hill. That's what terrifies them more than anything else, is that the Lord does reign.

Try as they might to lift their weapons skyward, gather into the valley of Megiddo and aim up to the sky. Golden Dome Planetary Defense Initiative think it's just for asteroids. Think it's because they're really worried about ballistic missiles. They have like a 70% failure rate anyways. Nope. It's their last ditch effort to make war against the King of Glory. And yet all he does is show up and open his mouth. He just opens his mouth and they're lay wasted because my God reigns. Amen. Okay.

The Lord reigns. Let the earth be glad. Let the distant shores rejoice. Clouds and thick darkness surround him. Righteousness and justice are the foundations of his throne. "Friendliness and niceness are the foundations of his throne". Friendliness and niceness, what is that? Righteousness and justice are the foundations of his throne. Fire goes before him and consumes his foes on every side. His lightning lights up the world. The earth seas and trembles. The mountains melt like wax before the Lord. Before the Lord of all the earth.

The heavens proclaim his righteousness and all the people see his glory. All who worship images are put to shame. Those who boast and idols worship him, all you gods. Zion hears and rejoices and the villages of Judah are glad because of your judgments, O Lord. Completely different posture than what many of us have been walking in. They are glad. They are glad and they rejoice because the judgments of God are coming on the earth. For you, oh Lord, are the most high over all the earth. You are exalted far above all. Elohim, all little G gods.

Let those who love the Lord hate evil. What's the appropriate response if you love the Lord? Hate evil. Interesting, huh? That sounds diametrically opposed to everything we have been taught in Christianity for the last 100 years. Oh, don't hate. Don't hate. Had a guy literally one day I was preaching on hate. Former Buddhist by the way, former transvestite by the way and crossdresser. And because I was talking about the hate of God; given his background, he stood up, literally physically stood up in the middle of church goes false teacher. That's all he said. false teacher. God doesn't hate anything because of his background. He couldn't conceive that God's angry with the wicked all day long.

And he actually hates all kinds of things. He hates evil. Why does he hate evil? Because he loves your soul. That's why. And evil will corrupt. It will pervert. It will taint. It will twist. It will malign. It will undermine. It will kill. It will steal. and it will destroy your ability to rightly know and understand your God and to stand in his presence for all of eternity. So yes, those who love the Lord, you ought to rightly hate. Rightly. Did you hear the qualifier? Rightly hate. Not a carnal hatred, a righteous indignation for the things that keep people from the glory of God. A veiled face. We ought to hate these things.

Let those who love the Lord hate evil, for he guards the lives of his faithful ones, and he delivers them from the hand of the wicked. Light is shed upon the righteous, and joy on the upright in heart. Rejoice in the Lord, you who are righteous, and praise his holy name. The key thing I wanted to key in on there is the fact that Zion hears and rejoices in the villages of Judah are glad because God's judgments are in the land. We ought to give thanks because of his judgments. Also back in in Psalm 96:13, it says they will sing to the Lord because he has come to judge the earth. It says all of creation, all of creation will sing to the Lord because he has come to the earth.

Come to judge the earth except for one part of his creation. Which one is it? Us. Us. were the only ones who don't quite get the revelation of Jesus Christ. All the rest of creation, it says they're groaning inwardly, longing to be set free from what they've been subjected to. They can't wait for God to come and judge the earth, even though he's going to burn all the elements with fire. They're like, "Praise God. Finally, the ground can't wait to be healed from the blood caused to soak up." That's why it says the earth is going to disclose the blood shed upon it. It's going to break aunder. It's going to wobble to and fro like a like a hut in the wind. Like a drunkard is going to stagger. So heavy upon it is the guilt of this world. And it's going, "Praise God, he's coming to judge. Praise God. He's coming to judge." And all creation is going, "Praise God, he's coming to judge."

And it says, "I Zion will be glad and the villages of Judah will sing with joy that the judgments of God are coming on the earth; except for one people refuses to give him worship for it." His church refuses to give him glory for his judgments coming on the earth. This can't be so. This can't be so. It's a huge, huge deal. Revelation 19. Okay, think about the context. I'm huge on context. Context is Revelation 18. The destruction of mystery of Babylon. Single day, single hour. Suddenly, single hour, single hour. I saw smoke arising from all of her cities. Lay waste. Give her a double portion for the luxury she lives in. A haunt for every foul and unclean spirit. Trafficking in the souls of men, polluting the whole earth with pharmacia because of pharmacia. It says the slain of all the earth was found in her by her. Pharmarcia by her sorceries, right? And on and on it goes. So then you have this lay wasting of mystery of Babylon.

You guys all know my preference of interpretation, right? It's fine if I'm wrong, but as of this point in my life, I'm 100% convinced it is the United States of America. And I've studied it through every lens out there. Don't even comment, YouTubers. I've studied it through every lens out there of eschatology and longheld classical dispensational beliefs about who mystery Babylon is. Not one of them works. But if you knew and understand the Deep State; doesn't even cover it. The United States of America, the founding of the United States of America, this land, the ruling principalities of this land.

If you actually read the primary primary source documentations of Thomas Jefferson, go read what he has to say about Jesus and Christians. They loathed them. Go read what Benjamin Franklin had to say about Christians and Christianity and Jesus. They hated him. They wanted no affinity for him whatsoever. Go look at the great seal on the back of your dollar bill. Go look at your land of graven images from the District of Columbia onward. Anyways, I digress. Okay.

So, this is the context of Revelation 19. So, finally, mystery Babylon is laywasted. Here's their response. After this, I heard what sounded like a roar of a great multitude in heaven shouting, "Oh God, oh God. Oh God, make it stop?" What does it say? Who has their Bibles open? Hallelujah. This is a response. Hallelujah. God's judgment has come on the earth. A great multitude roaring. You can't even fathom it. This great multitude roar and their response is hallelujah. 'Salvation and glory and power belong to our God. For true and just are his judgments. He has condemned the great prostitute who corrupted the earth by her adulteries. He has avenged on her the blood of his servants. And again they shouted, "Hallelujah! Hallelujah! God's judgment has come on the earth. The smoke from her goes up forever and ever.' And then the 24 elders, they fall down.

We like to pray these things, but we don't understand the context. They fall down, the 24 elders, and they cry out, "Hallelujah. Amen. Amen." Then a voice came from the throne, saying, "Praise our God, all you servants, you who fear him, both small and great." Then I heard another sound coming from the heaven like a great multitude like the roar of rushing waters and like loud peals of thunder shouting 'Hallelujah for our God Almighty reigns'. Let us rejoice and be glad and give him glory for the wedding of the Lamb has come and the bride has made herself ready. Hallelujah. Amen.

That's the response to the laying waste of mystery Babylon. Whoever you think it may be. It's praise and worship. But that's not our response. And it ought to be. I'm going to turn to Revelation 6:12-17. I want to show you something very powerfully clear from the onset of God judging the earth. So perfect. So leaving nothing to doubt. By the way, side note. Okay, side note. I can't remember what I can say without getting kicked off of YouTube. I don't think I can say anything about weather systems on the earth longitudinally, which is called our climate. And then the way that it does different things than what they expect, right? That's an automatic B. Isn't that interesting that that's an automatic automatic deplatforming to use that language of all things?

But you can't talk about the climate. You want to know why? Because they know that it's God's judgment on the earth. So in order to keep you from entering into authentic repentance, they come up with a counterfeit reason why it's happening. But I'm telling you all the earth changes from astro-catastrophism to the hydro conveyors to the ocean current stalling to the core which they said they think has stopped to the great earthquakes to the volcanism to the mass sea die off and the whole food chain within the oceans dying off to the changing uh atmospheric rivers and the thinning of the magnetosphere and these huge CMEs that are rocking the earth knocking out satellites and knocking planes from the sky and knocking out this and doing all There's a reason why they keep for the last decade have been pounding it into our youth that it is man-made. So then you'll justify depopulation. You'll be right. You'll be good to go with depopulation and birth control and everything else and reducing your carbon footprint.

By the way, you are the carbon footprint that they want to reduce. If you didn't know that you are totally carbon, you're carbon based being is because they actually know that it is God and God alone who is doing it. Did you know that? And God is going to escalate it in such a way that no one can deny, not one person denies what the source of it is any longer. They can't hide it and they can't massage it and they can't sigh up it away. Everybody tracking? I'll show you. Revelation 6:12-17. Right at the onset. Right at the onset, you have the letters to the churches, right? Then you have your four horsemen as people like to talk about the four horsemen of the apocalypse. It's never really the language that's used there, but there are four horses that are loose and the particular things that come with them, right? And then the fifth seal is those who were slain because of testimony of Jesus Christ.

And then right into the sixth seal, and let me read it to you and tell you, I'm telling you with all certainty that they know exactly why the judgments are coming on the earth. and nobody dismisses it away in any other way whatsoever. Oh, wait. I'll start in verse 12. "I watched as he opened the sixth seal. There was a great earthquake. The sun turned black like sackcloth made of goat hair. The whole moon turned blood red, and the stars in the sky fell to the earth as late figs dropped from a fig tree uh when shaken by a strong wind. The sky receded like a scroll rolling up, and every mountain and island was removed from its place."

You guys should read up on different aspects of astrocatastrophism from a secular scientific perspective. What they describe is verbatim what those three sentences just said verbatim. They talk about what happens to the sun, what happens to the moon, what it would look like, how the sky and the atmosphere as this fiery ball comes through. I don't care you firmament people, it's still an atmosphere. and how it it looks like it's literally roll rolling back because of the superheating of the ionosphere and into the stratosphere and then down into the meosphere. How they describe how it looks and then what the oceans do, and then what the earth does, and then what the crustal plate displacement does, and then what the volcanism does, and then what that does to the waters, fresh waters, what that does to the ocean waters, what that does to the sea life, what that does to the changing of dates and times. by the way that it requires a recalibration of different things because of the offsetting and how the impact will create an axial wobble. Sorry, flat earthers.

It creates an axial wobble which then throws off your hydro conveyors and your jet streams. Did you know that? That's what they say. I that's literally cuz God already said this is exactly what you're going to see when I start judging the earth. Okay, I digress. Then the kings of the earth, the princes and the generals and the rich and the mighty and every slave and free man hid themselves in caves and among the rocks of the mountains. And they called to the mountains and to the rocks. Pay very close attention. Fall on us and hide us from the face of him who sits on the throne and from the wrath of the lamb. for great for the great day of his wrath has come. And who can stand?

They know that it's not just a god, a creator god, a whatever god, a panspermia, panspermia alien god, just god in some general sense that's causing these things. They say with their own mouths because of the wrath of the lamb, they know it's Jesus Christ himself. They know that they know that they know and nobody denies exactly who it is except their for their response is completely different than what we expect. Their response is anger, rage, and resentment and shaking their fist at the heavens. They refuse to repent and they know exactly what the source of the judgments are as we're supposed to be worshiping and praising God for the judgments that are coming on the earth because it's a testimony of his mercy. It's a testimony of his kindness. It's a testimony of his patience towards men. It's a testimony of the lengths to which he's willing to go for our hearts and for our minds.

That's why it's only a third, a third, and a third and a third and a third and a third. Why? Because he's kind. Because he's good. He doesn't lay waste it all. He says he takes no delight in the destruction of mankind at all. Not whatsoever. He says he's patient and slow in fulfilling his promises to judge the earth, not wanting any to perish but all to come to everlasting life. And so he makes his judgments known on the earth because of kindness, because of goodness. It says, "Don't you know that the kindness of God and his forbearance and his patience leads you to repentance?" He goes, "I'm only going to lay waste a third." Just like he did to Israel. How many times did he do it to Israel? How many times did he give Pharaoh? I'm going to.. 'Here's the judgment. You ought to be praising me for it so that it'll turn your heart a stone back to a heart of flesh and it'll beat for me. Okay, here's I'm going to escalate a little bit. Here's another one.'

Remember I've talked about, you know, the the escalatory ladder, you know, the the escalation of judgments and the escalation of suffering. It's supposed to do something. Okay, here's another judgment. Okay, here's another judgment. Okay, here's another judgment. He doesn't lay waste them. Some intense pressures, right? Some intense afflictions, but only for goodness sake, for the sake of goodness, for the sake of repentance. because he is kind and he is patient and he is forbearing. He takes no pleasure in even the destruction of the wicked. Oh man. And yet here God is getting the attentions of the peoples of the earth.

We ought to be worshiping and praising him along with the heavenly hosts. Praise God for his judgments have come on the earth. And we ought to be rightly testifying to why these judgments are coming on the earth. Because God loves you. Because God is kind. Because God is merciful. He's literally going to shake not only the earth, but also the heavens and the earth. So that which cannot be shaken will be left standing so that you won't put your hope in anything else. All your idols are going to fall to the ground. All your gold and silver, throw it in the streets. It's worthless. All your humanistic accolades and all your pride and your confidence in the flesh, it's going to fail you. And the governments are going to fail you. And people are going to fail you and all this is going to fail you.

But the Lord your God reigns from on high and he will never fail you. He demonstrated in the face of his son Jesus Christ. Here is the hope I'm holding out to you. Repent for the day the Lord is at hand because God loves you. You guys understand how this works. This is the Revelation.

The Revelation is wonderful.

The Revelation is awesome.

The Revelation is fearsome.

It's all of it. All at the exact same time. Revelation 16 1-11 says this. Then I heard a loud voice from the temple saying to the seven angels, "Go pour out the seven bowls of God's wrath on the earth." Okay. When God starts judging the earth, what's supposed to be our response? Hallelujah. Hallelujah. Oh, he's getting ready to pour out the bowls.

This is a hard. I get this, it's a hard soulful man transition to make to praise God for these things, because we read and we see the terror and the trauma of it. We got to, we need new eyesight so that we can see the glory and the majesty and the kindness and the patience and the forbearance and the love of God amid it all. Finally, he's judging the earth. Do you guys know what that means? That means no more Stockton, California shooting of children. That's what that means. It means no more pedophiles in DC devouring our It means no more underground tunnel systems from the Vatican, from what I've heard, that are so extensive that they've documented 700 miles worth of them for children. That's what that means.

It means no more no more sex abuse, no more physical abuse, no more divorces fracturing children's lives. The number one most destructive thing I've seen in the human experience is a divorce. And yet everybody thinks it's totally normal. It is not normal. It is so destructive to the spirit of a child. You can't even put words to it. Yet we go, "Well, everybody's comes from a divorced home, so there's really no weight to it." Oh my goodness. You should be in, you should be a part of listening to counseling, should come listen to the phone calls that I have, the emails that I have, working at a therapeutic boarding school for teens. Every single aspect of carnality and destruction from the powers of darkness was birthed in divorce. Every single one of them.

It means none no more of that. No more body image. No more cancer. I just saw an awesome brother 30 years old died of cancer. Yes. On Thanksgiving man. Married, 30 years old, dead. That means no more of that. No more governments. No more wars. No more. I hate watching Russian Ukrainian and Ukrainians slaughter each other. I hate it. They're actually brothers. They're Slavic. Their governments have convinced them to slaughter one another so that the military-industrial complex can make their trillions on rebuilding the destruction. No more. No more. Praise God. Hallelujah. His his judgments are just and true on the face of Praise God. The revel praise God. He stops.

He stops it and he shuts the mouth of that counterfeit lion. He punches him in his neck so that he can never talk again. And then tosses him in the lake of fire so that he can never go out deceiving the nations again. Praise God. Hallelujah. Everybody tracking the right posture. The right posture from an eternal perspective. Then I heard a loud voice from the temple saying to the seven angels, "Go pour out the seven bowls of God's wrath on the earth." The first angel went and poured out the first bowl on the land and ugly painful boils broke out on the people who had the mark of the beast and worshiped his image. The second angel poured out his bowl on the sea and it turned into blood like that of a dead man and every living thing in the sea died. By the way, everybody understand that these are the judgments in Exodus. This is why we sing the song of Moses in the book of Revelation. See there it was it was regional. It was regional temporal. Now it was a type and shadow. Now it's every single thing that God used against Egypt. Now he uses over the face of all humanity. Times I don't even know what exponentially greater. Everybody tracking.

God's always in the business of being so kind and patient and forbearing that he gives us warning after warning after warning. Yeah. By the way, Pharaoh got 10 chances to soften his heart. The whole face of the earth gets 21 chances and then some. They get 21. Seven. Seven. Seven. Patience. Patience. Kindness. Patience. Little bit more escalation. Little. Oh, and you get the gospel now. They didn't have the gospel. Oh, now you have the fullness of the spirit. Now.

They didn't have the fullness of the spirit. They would get temporary outpourings of the spirit, but they didn't have the spirit of God living in them. They would just be moved by the spirit and then it would go and then it would go. They didn't get to walk in the spirit. They didn't get to have the mind of Christ. They didn't have all power and all authority through Christ Jesus in them. They didn't have any of that. So, man, the Revelation of Jesus is the highest expression of God's kindness and mercy towards the inhabitants of the earth, to both judge it and to destroy it, and to patience it, and to mercy it, and to grace it all the exact same time. Okay.

The third angel poured out his bowl in the rivers and the springs and the waters and they became blood. And I heard an angel in charge of the waters say, "You are just in these judgments. You who are, and who were, the holy one." Notice right there, if you never picked up on it before, it made the transition. Remember at the beginning of Revelation, the one who is, who was and is, and is to come. He doesn't say that anymore. Now it's just the one who is, who was, and is. There's no more to come. It's done right here, right now. He transitioned all their language. It's happening right now in real time. There's no more future context to anything going on. The one who was and the one who is. Period. No more in a story. Because you have so judged. For they have shed the blood of your saints and the prophets. And you have given them the blood to drink as they deserve, as they deserve. And I heard the altar respond, "Yes, Lord God Almighty, true and just as your judgments." There they are again worshiping God.

The fourth angel poured out his bowl on the sun and the sun was given the power to scorch people with fire. You should study the magnetosphere and what happens when that thing goes down. This is exactly what happens. Okay? They were seared by the intense heat and they cursed the name of God. So they know exactly where it's coming from. Nobody goes, "I'm an agnostic, secular, humanist, atheist. Oh, and by the way, Allah is my god and Buddha is my god and I'm just going to reincarnate and experience nirvana one of these days." Nope. All of that is gone. They know. They have a singularity of focus. They know exactly what's happening here. And they curse the name of God. By the way, that is Yahweh there in the scriptures. Not a god, not an Elohim, not a lessery god, not just one of many gods, the god of all gods. They began cursing him who had control over these plagues. But they refused to repent and glorify him. Man!

The fifth angel poured out his bowl on the throne of the beast and his kingdom was plunged into darkness. Men gnawed their tongues in agony. Agony and cursed the God of heaven because of their pains and their sores. But they refused to repent of what they had done. They refused to repent. They all know exactly what's going on. They know exactly who it's coming from. They know what the judgments are designed to do. They know that it's designed to lead them to repentance and therefore they deliberately refuse to repent. How's that for pride?

How's that for pride? It's crazy. And that's what's so powerful about what's actually going on in Revelation. Because God is so just and righteous are your judgments, oh Lord, that he is proving to them to the very end till their last breath that they don't want him. He's also proving to the very end to your last breath that all you want is him. And in both cases, he is revealing the revelation of Jesus Christ as Lord, and what your response is to Jesus Christ as Lord. It is the Revelation. It's the Revelation of your heart. It's the revelation of the King of Glory. It's a revelation of their heart. It's a revelation of it all. And that's why we go, "Praise God. He's so just. He's so He's going to perfectly satisfy the desire of each man's heart to the individual. Perfect to true and just are all your ways, God.

Praise be to you. You won't force anything on any man. You won't withhold anything from any man. You give it all and then they get to choose what the desire of their heart actually is. That's why it is such a powerful powerful thing. Revelation is proof that evidence does not guarantee repentance. No matter what God does, I mean, okay, now let's think about that in our own lives. Bring it down to your heart.

All God's evidence to you and your life does not necessarily guarantee repentance. Miracles don't automatically produce faith. Man, no matter how many times he showed them in the wilderness his great and awesome deeds, they soon forgot their God and refused to give him thanks. Miracles don't automatically produce faith. Witnessing God's power personally and intimately doesn't produce automatically a right submission to the Lord. Look at the book of Revelation. Experiencing the consequences of sin. Their bodies are literally covered with sores because of their hatred of God, because of the rejection of God. And it doesn't produce anything but greater resentment and war against God. And they literally shake their fists of the heavens and they refuse to repent. And they curse his name all the harder.

So even the consequences of your sin doesn't produce a right submission. Despondency and brokenness doesn't automatically produce godly sorrow. Remember what the scriptures say? Earthly sorrow versus godly sorrow. Most people spend their entire life victimhooding within earthly sorrow. And they never, they never allow it to produce godly sorrow in their lives. And by the way, there's a way you can test when somebody is entered into godly sorrow. You want to know how? Says it in the scriptures. It says, "And we gave thanks." Like you'd be like, "Praise God." When you see somebody come into authentic repentance and authentic godly sorrow, you know that you know that you know that it is authentic repentance because you give God glory when you see somebody enter into godly sorrow. But we all know the people we all know are we are the person who says sorry, sorry, sorry all the time the entirety of their lives. And what does everybody do? Whatever dude. You're going to do it again next tomorrow anyways. I know you're not actually sorry. You're just sorry of getting caught. You're sorry the consequences. You're sorry the way it made you look.

It's actually all your sorrow is actually still self-focused. It's self-glorifying. It's self-righteousing. It's self-exalting. It's feigned sorrow. And we all know because we roll our eyes. Have those particular people that always say, "I'm sorry." And you know it has no late no weight to it whatsoever. Right? Anyways, I'm going somewhere with this. So, despondency and brokenness doesn't automatically produce godly sorrow. Amazing grace, mercy, and the kindness of the Lord doesn't automatically produce humility and thanksgiving.

I know I am chief among sinners of this. God is so good to me, so gracious, and so merciful. And yet, I grumble still. He It doesn't matter how much he shows me, I'm still not coming into a right heart of humility and thanksgiving and undone praise. Oh man, the revelation proves this that all these people in the inhabitants of the earth, including his church, will experience and witness more miracles and more power and more judgment and more just consequence than any other people in all of human history, including in the days of Noah and including the days of Lot and including the days at the Tower of Babel. more than anybody in all.

It says the time of likes of which never has been, never has been, and never will be again. If Christ didn't shorten the days, there'll be no flesh left alive. That's how gnarly it is. And this last generation will experience more of all that God is in every single way. And yet, thanks, they will never repent. It's a revelation. It's this gnarly revelation. Patience is meant the patience and kindness of God even in his rules of one-third all throughout the book of Revelation. Its meant to take a hardened heart or even an ignorant heart. Okay, we'll even give that qualifier. A hard heart or just a simple ignorant heart and change it into a heart of repentance so that he can rightly restore that relationship. And yet so so few will respond. Then just like so so few respond now in the church so few respond to God's loving kindness and repentance. Ezekiel uh 18:23 says this. Do I take any pleasure in the death of the wicked? Declares the sovereign Lord. Does he does he take any pleasure in the death of the wicked? He's not like yeah I can't wait to smite you. See that's how the wicked evildoers want to make God out. That's how the religious elite want to make.

That's how Catholics want to make God out to be. That's how Mormons want to make God out to be. Oh, you better do this. You better do that. You better do this. You better do that. If you don't do this, if you don't do that, you are the object of God's wrath. He goes, "Dude, I don't take pleasure in even the wicked dying. That was ne that's not me." It says, "I take no pleasure. Rather I or he says declares the sovereign Lord rather am I not pleased when they turn from their ways and live. This is the higher glory. The higher glory is repentance. The higher glory is redemption. The higher glory is restoration. That is the higher glory.

It's so easy to pray inprecatory prayers, is it not? Against your enemies. Oh God, contend with those who contend with me. Rise up, oh Lord, and scatter your enemies. God, break their teeth in their mouth. These are all scriptures, by the way. Is that not easy? That's, that's cheap. See, the greater glory is to go, "Oh, God, turn their heart. Oh, God, forgive them. They don't know what they're doing. Oh, God, deliver them from the fowler's snare. They've been taken captive to do the devil's will. Oh, God, save their souls from the fire. It would be easy for Moses to go, you're going to raise up a people out of me, God." Remember what he said? I'm gonna lay waste all y'all. Don't worry, Moses. I'm going to raise up a new people out of you. You know, that would have been super easy for Moses to go, "Yeah, these people suck. Thank you, God. They're so stiff necked. They're so rebellious. They're so hard-hearted. They're so double-minded. Even Aaron's gathering up gold to make a calf for them to worship. Miriam's undermining me and Da and Corin and this and they just keep going and going and going and they grumble and grumble and grumble. Okay. Yeah, God, that was just you are so right. Okay, Lord, do your thing. Praise God. He's going to lay waste all these people and raise up a new people that will actually praise and worship him.

But what was Moses's response? Take my name out of the book of life. Can you imagine understanding God in eternity that at that level that you go and 'take my my name out of the book of life'. I am willing to be eternally separated from your presence that people might know your greater glory and saving a people all for yourself and taking that heart of stone and making a heart of flesh that beast for you. That's the greater glory. Man, it's so powerful.

Second Peter 3:9 says, 'The Lord is not slow and keeping his promise as some understand slowness, but he is patient with you. Who's you? Who does you qualify as? Anybody who reads this, who is you? Yeah, they themselves are the you, he's patient with you. Anybody who hears these words, not wanting anyone to perish, but for everyone to come to repentance, the revelation of Jesus Christ. One-third, one-third, one-third, one-third. So patient, so patient, so patient, so slow, so slow and lay wasting it all with fire. So slow and consuming it all, so slow and doing this thing. You don't understand your God. He wants the hearts of men. He wants everyone to come in repentance. Luke 15:7, "I tell you that in the same way, there will be more joy in heaven over one sinner who repents than over 99 righteous ones who do not need to repent." That's where God gets the greater glory. Matthew 18:4, "In the same way you, Father in heaven, In the same way your Father in heaven is not willing that any of these little ones should perish, this is how he interacts with you. He's not willing that anyone should perish."

This is why the revelation Isaiah 55:7, "Let the wicked man forsake his ways and that unrighteous man his thoughts. Let him return to the Lord that he may have compassion and to our God, for he will freely pardon." That's why the revelation Jeremiah 18:7 and 8, "At any time I might announce that a nation or a kingdom will be uprooted, torn down, and destroyed. But if that nation I warned turn from its evil, then I will relent of the disaster I had planned to bring because my desire is for the greater glory, the greater work, the greater glory of watching a wicked, corrupted, god-hating, carnal, selfish, destructive heart go, "Oh God, heal me and cleanse me and make me white as snow. Take my whole life, Lord. You are my God and I will be your people and I will worship you forever more. The greater glory. Jonah 3:10. When God saw their actions, the actions in Nineveh, that they had turned from their evil ways, he relented from the disaster he had threatened to bring upon them, the greater glory.

Micah 7:18, "Who is God like you? Who pardons iniquity and passes over the transgressions of the remnant of his inheritance? who does not retain his anger forever because he delights in loving devotion. Who is this God? The greater work. Why revelation? Why the revelation? Everything that comes with it. Romans 2:4. Do you presume on the riches of God's kindness and his forbearance and his patience, not knowing that God's kindness leads to repentance? What leads to repentance? kindness. The law, did the law lead anybody to repentance? Nope. That's why he cancelled the legal writ of indebtedness that stood against us and fulfilled the law because it could never lead you to repentance.

His kindness is what leads us to repentance. Okay. What's kind? Do you think it's kind of God to keep you from a relationship that you didn't see the toxicity that was hidden in their heart? Is that kind of God? Was that kind of God to keep you from that job that was going to lead you astray and make money and work become your idol to where you destroy your marriage and it ends in divorce and somebody else is raising your kids? Was that kind of God to keep you impoverished and an obscurity and reduced and a reduced reality? So every waking day you depended on him for your every waking need. Was that kind of God? Is it? Oh, it's so kind. You just don't understand it. Is it kind of God to let governments collapse and fall?

Is it kind of God to allow the wicked to rule and reign and raise up to see whose hearts really want to follow after those things? Is it kind of God to let Joel Olstein keep preaching and whatever those other Joker's name are? The really demonic looking guy with all kinds of jets. Don't know his name. Copeland. Is that kind of God to let them to let them flourish? He says, "Don't fret, dude. Don't fret when the wicked succeed in their ways." Don't you? I'm doing something here. Psalm 37. Trust, delight, commit, dwell. Then then your righteousness will shine like the dawn and the justice for your cause like the noonday sun. Don't fret when evil men succeed in your ways. I'm doing something. Is it kind of God to allow hardships and afflictions in your life to expose what you really believe or disbelieve about him? Is that kind or is that unkind? Is it kind of God to let you fight your stupid carnality for 20 years before you finally have the revelation of his love enough to where you get freedom?

It's so kind. Is it kind of God to shake the heavens and the earth and the seas and the fresh waters and the springs and the fish and the ships of the seas? Is that kind of God? It's very kind. It's so kind that he only works in thirds and a third and a third and a third and a third. Kindness and forbearance and patience. Why? Because it leads to repentance. That's why. So this is the revelation that I think very few of us take into consideration. Very very few of us take into consideration the revelation of Jesus Christ. We ought to be praising God for his judgments in the earth. We ought to be praising God as we see everything getting shaken even in us. Give him glory. Praise. Praise be to you God. I didn't realize I had that as an idol. I didn't realize I was self-reliant. That self-reliant. I didn't realize that I was that double-minded. I didn't realize that I was that carnal. I didn't think I was that prideful. I didn't know I was that arrogant. I didn't know I was acting out from these childhood winnings, fng my whole life, and being toxic in every relationship. I didn't know. But praise God. Praise God that he reveals these things to us. He's patient because he's kind and he's patient to show his kindness because that kindness is supposed to do something lead you to repentance. Amen.

So when we think about the revelation of the Lord, this by the way, this is what I was thinking of this morning. This is just this morning. I told you I didn't have a sermon and I'm just, like, this is profound. This is amazing. This is profound. Why do we not know these things? Why have we not been told these things? Praise God all with all of creation and all the heavenly host that his judgments are in the earth. Praise be to God. Let us not be like the God haters who no matter what evidence, no matter what consequence, no matter what kindness, and no matter what patience he shows them, they refuse to repent. Man. Amen.

Okay, go. Who's got a question? Will.

Perfect question. So, I'll I'll repeat the question for the people online. So, Will was asking; I'll paraphrase it. He's asking; utilizing Jeremiah 10, on how it is that a professing Christian could self-justify to partake in pagan practices. Okay, simplified paraphrasing of your question. Great question. Um, this isn't a condemnation on you, so don't take anything personally. Okay, I'm just... This is very common, especially this time of year. It is a consistent thing every single year that I have to engage and deal with. And so, don't take any condemnation for it. And so, as I said, I'm speaking in generalities. Um, don't take it personal.

The question itself is very presumptuous. And the question itself actually isn't a question. It's an assertion. So the assertion is being made that Christmas is pagan and pagan roots and celebrates different gods and is on pagan days and pagan festivals. That is a presumption that has been propagated by the Christian YouTube truther movement. It is actually empirically wrong. It is historically wrong. It is completely not grounded in in anything biblical or historically factual whatsoever. It's actually the polar opposite. But again, that's not clicky and that's not sexy and you can't self-righteous against the next guy if you believe that. So, this is a common thing that we deal with actually if people were willing to do their due diligence to really not research out a quick YouTube thing or chat GPT about the roots of Christmas.

Christmas was celebrated by the first century church long before anything was romanized and paganized. So it's actually the total opposite including the giving and exchanging of gifts and a tree. Jeremiah 9 Jeremiah 10, the singular verse that is used to say Christian is pagan. A singular verse, can you ever make any doctrine off of a singular verse? Period. No. is completely out of context by people who don't want to think and they don't want to do the leg work and they don't want to do the research because it's clicking and sound biting. By the way, almost all anti- Christmas, the war on Christmas hasn't come from the secular world. It's come from the Pharisees and the Sadducees within the church. has come through Torah observance, Hebraic roots and the Christian truther movement had made greater war on the exaltation of Christ Jesus and the first advent of Christ which points us towards the second advent of Christ more than anything else. The war on Christmas has come from the church. Has everybody noticed that they will slander, malice hatefilled and justified, as if they're glorifying God, the whole time with this Christmas thing, and they have no context for the actual historicity.

The church was actually celebrating Christmas in and around December 25th because of a council that agreed on a particular thing. I'm I don't have notes in front of me. Okay. So, people if there's error in this, it's not intentional. It's just I don't have notes on the dates and the times and the councils and doing this blah blah that they chose that knowing that it wasn't actually Christ's birthday. They knew, right? Some people say 911. That's why they did 911 on 911 because it was the birth of Christ. It was mocking of Christ and all this kind. Yes, there's a lot of that going on in the occultic world. But they chose it because of a particular re reason which I can't remember right now to do it within this time frame.

And the first century church was celebrating Christmas. I believe it was for 400 years consistently as a magnification of the first advent of Christ to call into remembrance the long awaited hope the eager anticipation of the second advent of Christ 400 years before it got assimilated, because of how influential it was for the church and for the glory of Jesus. By the Romans and then they tried to paganize it and they still couldn't lose it. So in the very language itself, what are we calling this time of year? Christ mass. There's not a single person on the face of the earth that can have anything to do with this holiday. However much they've tried to commercialize it, however much they've tried to paganize it, however much they've tried to greedyize it, however much they've tried to corporize it, what that's not even a word. How, whatever they've tried to do everywhere on the face of the earth whoever in every tribe tongue language color creed nationality governmental over they are all celebrating Christmas and every single one of them knows they may not know the details, they might not know any of the real depth of it, they all know that it has to do with the birth of Jesus Christ.

All of them do. it's literally called Christmas, you can't get away from it. Now, they may not have any association with the fact that it's dealing with Christ, but in some way, shape, or form, it is actually beyond resurrection Sunday, surprisingly on the face of the earth, the highest opportunity for the magnification of Christ Jesus is Christmas. And then you can get into the different aspects of the vestments of it, how they have been intentionally perverted by the pagans because all it did was magnify Christ.

So it wasn't so much of a qu again, this is in combination on you. That wasn't so much of a question. That was an assertion. Why do Christians do this knowing that it's pagan? Well, I would, I would just scrap that whole statement and say you that that's very presumptuous. It's not pagan at all. And actually Jeremiah 10 has nothing to do with a Christmas tree. It's fashioning it. It's carving it and then it's overlaying it with gold and silver and not putting tinsel on your tree. I mean think of all the loose fallacies that the truther movement. Such loose fallacies. They make mega intellectual leaps in their arguments to justify their stance when the scripture is very plain that they're cutting down trees, cedars of Lebanon and elsewhere and the high country to fashion them into idols and then they overlay it and they hammer it with a goldsmith and smoke goldsmith with gold so that then they make an altar to it and they worship you worship it.

Now let me ask you this. Has any single one of you ever bowed down and worshiped your Christmas tree because the lights that are on it? And have you carved it into the image of a ruling principality or a spiritual authority over your particular I don't care if it's Dean. I don't care if it's Nurgal. I don't care if it's Marduk. I don't care who it is. I don't care if it's Inana. I don't care if it's Ishtar Ashtarte. I don't care if it's the Queen of Heaven. I don't care if it's Moloch. Have any of you taken your Christmas tree with presents under it, carved it down into an effigy of one of the ruling principalities of this pagan nation, Amaruka, the land of the wing plun serpent, and then bowed down and worshiped it and served it and give libations and drink offerings for it and veneration of the dead because that's what Jeremiah 10 is talking about. So it's it is an extreme extreme perversion that has come through phariseical spirit spirits of what the what Christmas is at.

It is actually called a f it's spiritual warfare. It's to make you yourself make war against Christmas. It's genius. It's a genius tactic if you think about it. So again, it is very illinformed to watch a 10-minute, 20 minute, 35 minute YouTube video on Christmas being pagan and then make the determination that Christmas is pagan. It's actually not pagan. Do... have pagans perverted aspect? Absolutely. Governments, corporate corporations, absolutely. All the more reason why the redeemed of the Lord ought to be declaring and magnifying the first advent of Christ because then it softens our heart to the eager anticipation of the second advent of Christ. So that's a short narrow but man I if I had my notes because every year this is every year you guys should go read my Facebook feed our YouTube feed. is the most vile vile people on the face of the earth. And I say this with I say this with confidence.

Not everybody, not all of them, but the most vile, hateful, malicious, slanderous, spewing of venom, wanting to burn your house down people I've ever come into contact with are the ones that are anti-Christian. I mean, anti-Christ. And they usually come through some Torah observance or Hebrew roots lens and then they use that as justification; as if they're really honoring God by literally cussing me out on sermons; on comments in the sermons praising the first advent of Jesus Christ. It's crazy.

So you think there might be spiritual warfare involved with this time of year? I don't know about you guys. I don't bow down and worship anything except for Jesus Christ to the glory of God the Father. Nothing. And I delight in his goodness. And I think constantly about the beauty and the lights and the I mean we're listening to stupid Christmas music on the radio which is mind-numbing by the way. Mariah Carey. But and on secular radio in this region, every third song was about the magnification of that glorious night.

Secular radio. Why would I not magnify my king? Why? Oh, holy night and all these things in little town of Bethlehem. It's just it literally is actually cultural to magnify Jesus at Christmas. It is cultural to do that. How and when we're going to be the ones that are going to tear down and spit in our loved ones faces because we read Jeremiah 10 out of context. Can't be. Shouldn't be. So, good good question. Will send it.

Yeah, that's a good second question. [having a righteousness of our own and yet being completed in the righteousness of Christ.] That's tough. So her question was is I'll just I'll paraphrase it, okay? Because this is true. It's all throughout scripture. We have this I say duality, but I know that it's not duality because God's not double-minded, right? God's not like a man that he should lie. God's not it's our lack of ability to understand God. Praise be to God that we can't have the wisdom and understanding of God. I don't I wouldn't want that. So her question is is is that battle between that duality of like having a righteousness of our own and yet being completed in the righteousness of Christ because there are scriptures like perfect holiness out of reverence for Christ.

So that's on you, right? It says you do this like you purify yourself there. That's a verse in first Peter says you sanctify yourself. That's that like she was quoting from Job about Job saying, "I've held closely to my righteousness." Like I have a righteousness of my own that I am maintaining yet knowing that we don't have that and actually it's only walking in the freedom and the righteousness of Christ, right? And that like what how do we do with this tension? Believe me, I fight it every day. Every day. Like you say holy, you save me righteous. You save me holy. You save me righteous. Why did I just watch that reel? Cuz that was hilarious. But you said coarse jokingly, foolish talk, unclean speech. These things are not for you. Instead, give thanks. You must rid yourself of all these things. Who could stand?

You're saying be holy and you're saying be righteous. You're saying be found blameless on the day of the Lord. Yet I know that I'm not. And then I'm supposed to be rest in the covering of Christ. But then I don't want to treat it as a license to sin. Like it says you like you're using it as a license for leanness. A license. How do you I don't know. I don't know. I know that it's it's a heart posture. I want to be righteous and I want to be holy. I want to not because it justifies me. Because I know I can never do it, but I want to do it because I love him. I want to do it because it pleases him. I want to do it because it honors him.

It's like a child looking for their dad's affirmation. Not like he's withholding it from us. Understand that. But like like I want to make my dad proud. Yeah. And I want to see I want I want to be a pleasure to him. It says, you know, a pleasing sacrifice, a pleasing offering. So I want to do my end whatever I can. And it's so pathetic, right? Because all of our acts of righteousness are like You know what that means, right? But yet he says for for us to do it. So by obedience, it's like, okay, Lord, I want to honor you in this way, but I also know that I am free in the sufficiency of Christ.

I am free to fail. I'm free to fall flat on my face. I am free when I blow it. I'm free when I'm double-minded. I'm free when all we like sheep go astray. Each one goes his own way. There's no one who does good. Know not one. All my acts of righteousness are like filthy rags. The apostle Paul can say I'm chief among sinners. I do what I don't want to do. I don't do what I want to do. I'm such a rush. Yet in the same breath, follow me as I follow Christ. How does he do that? How can you say both at the same time? How can you say, "I am a wretch. I have a righteousness of my own." Because God has called. How can Paul say, "I am chief among sinners. Follow me as I follow Christ. Because notice what he said. I mean, it's simple. Follow me as I follow Christ. When I'm not following Christ, do not follow me. When I'm in my flesh, don't follow that. It's like, do as I say, not as I do kind of mentality, right? Like parents would often say, and things like that.

So, there is this weird duality. But I think where we can walk, I don't know, a lack of a for a lack of a better word of duality because God's not dual. He's not double-minded. It's our lack of understanding. But it's like we do these things in the freedom of our failings and our shortcomings and falling so short of the glory of God, knowing that Christ is our covering. But I do them because I want to honor him. I I do want to have a righteousness to bring before the Lord. I don't want to come in there looking like some, you know, skank or something before the Lord. Like I want to be a chaste bride. I want to wear white on my wedding day. You know, don't take that out of context. Who is it that's going to pass judgment? No one. Like the Apostle Paul says, "You don't get to condemn me, dude.

I totally reject what you're trying to put on me because I won't even condemn myself. Cuz if I self- condemn, what I'm saying is you're not enough, Jesus. I'll let you know when I'm worthy to be forgiven." How's that for pride? So, I say the highest form of pride is victimhood. Highest that I've personally experienced. There may be other manifestation. The highest expression of pride is victimhood. Because what it says is: "I'll tell you God when I'm worthy to be loved, when I'm worthy to be in your presence"... I actually become God. I set myself in the place of God declaring myself to be God. It's the spirit of Antichrist. Condemnation. Self- condemnation is the spirit of Antichrist. And that's why it says there there is none of that. Conviction. Yes. Conviction is good. There should be freedom when you're convicted. Oh God, I blew it. Man, I hate that.

Thank you, Holy Spirit, for showing me how gross that is and offensive that is to you, God. Praise be to you, God. You do not treat me the way my sins deserve. In the same breath, now there's freedom. So now I'm free even to fail. I'm so free in Christ, I don't justify my sin away. I don't justify it. I am free even when I fail because Christ was sufficient for that too. And now I can walk in righteousness before my God. Does that make sense? It's tough. It's a tough one because we don't know God fully. And it does seem it's like it's like love your enemies. Have nothing to do with the evildoer. Cut them off from you. Pray for those who persecute you. Listen. It's like it's like dude strike the evil doer.

I'm angry at the wicked all day long. you know, and you're like, "Wait, which one is it, God?" Like, "Cut them off. Have nothing to do with them. Don't even eat with them." And then over here, it's like, "Pray for them. Be gracious. Be forbearance." And all I'm like, "I don't know which posture to walk in." And it's like, God's not double-minded. We just don't have the understanding of God. He's not double-minded.

We just we don't have the wisdom and maturity to know what it looks like to like both love and hate, to be gracious, patient, kind, and merciful. but also like definitive and being willing to remove things and cut things off and have a zero tolerance. We we can't navigate it rightly, which is why we have to dwell, hide, and abide in Christ at all times. Send it.

[Third question]; Yeah, she was commenting on..... I'm only obviously.... you guys heard it, but I'm repeating it for anybody online, but she's commenting on how in the scriptures in Revelation in particular, it's a fourth through the four horsemen, then a third, a third, a third, a third because of God's grace and mercy and kindness. But when he's dealing with his own people, it's the inverse where he says two-thirds are going to be destroyed by these judgments and only a third I will leave in the land. He leaves two-thirds of the unbelieving world hoping that they'll come to repentance. But for his people who knew him, who had his word, and who stood on a righteousness of their own, he actually lay waste two-thirds and only preserves one-third left.

So it's an inverse. Whoa, man. That's why I was like, who having received the gospel and doing blleh can expect blah? That's how big a deal it is.

[Fourth question] So any other questions, comments, send it. Oh yeah, good question. So she asked if the bowl judgments... because the bowl judgments are kind of like the last big show. There are also seven thunders that are not mentioned. Everybody know that, right? John's like, I was told not to write them down. So there's a whole another level of stuff. We have no clue what's going to happen when that goes down. But she's asking if the bowl judgments are to lead people to repentance.

But yet in Revelation 14, it's saying that those who have the mark, their names are taken from the lamb's book of life and they have no opportunity repent, right? Yes. Yeah. Okay. So, so I'll just ask a general question. So the the question would be if somebody takes the mark of the beast, is there any chance for repentance? If God's desire is to leave in repentance, no, not absolutely not. Not whatsoever. The mark of the beast, once you receive that mark, whatever, however it manifests, um it's done. Your condemnation is done and sealed. And like I've said before, like re taking the mark of the beast doesn't happen in a vacuum. You're not going to be deceived into taking it. You're not going to be tricked into taking it. There's not going to be a plot or a scheme or manipulation of your emotion to take it.

By the time the be the mark is on the scene, you will it will be a full knowing deliberate willful choice of which god you serve. That's why if you look at the centrality of the mark of the beast is worship. It's all based on worship. It's actually not based on economic systems although that's a part of it. It's not based on uh a gun to your head forcing you to take it under threat of death. They take it uh as an act of worship and they worship the beast and they worshiped the beast and they worshiped the beast and they worshiped him and those who had the mark and the seal they worshiped the beast and actually those who are beheaded for their testimony of Jesus Christ it says because they refuse to worship.

So the mark is actually an exposure of your heart's desires of the object of your worship and I believe this is total speculation total speculation I personally believe Whatever the mark of the beast is, it will be manifest in such a way that it actually changes you at a genetic level. That's what I believe. Which is why you cannot be redeemed. Your name is taken from the man's book of life because there's only one other time in all of historicity that that occurred and it has to go into Enoch, first Enoch. Enochian text and extra biblical text. Apocrypha testifies to this book of giants to some degree as well too. but that you will actually change your created image, which is why you cannot be redeemed. Christ died for men, by the way, not for your dogs and not for your horses and not for anything else. Because I hear that all the time. People are willing to die for their pets, but they're not willing to lay down their lives for the souls of men.

Christ died for men, for mankind. So this gets into all your intergalactic space federation stuff, off earth stuff, all the whatever panser Christ died for men, for the souls of men. So and we are created in his in his image. So now at a genetic DNA, mRNA level or DNA or mRNA level, you alter proteins and mitochondria that begins recoding DNA. You are no longer created in God's image. You are created in somebody else's image. And so this gets into that cosmic warfare from Genesis 3 all the way to the end. And I will put immunity between the seed of the serpent and the seed of the woman. So this is genetic warfare. It has been genetic warfare from the onset. That's Genesis 6. That's the flood. That's giants in the earth in those days and awful thereafter. And that's all the way through.

That's why all the genealogies are listed. If you didn't know why all these exhaustive, boring genealogies are listed throughout scripture is to assert the purity of the genetic bloodline to the savior Jesus Christ through the seed of woman untainted. This is also why you have all the context of kill every man, woman, child, and animal and particular regions when God did stuff because they weren't his creation. They weren't his creation. That's why that command was given out. They were genetically altered. So now that gets into GMO, GMO, genetically modified organism. That's anything, everything that gets into Bill Gates with mosquitoes to your food, to your cows, to your plants, to your crops, to the air itself, with the geoengineering.

This gets into what happened with the the thing that people took in their body. I'm not saying that that's a mark. I'm not saying that at all. But it's a precursor, right? This is a softening tactic that everything that God created has intentionally, very thoughtfully been modified so that it's no longer his creation. So now you get the context of why it says, "And he will destroy all the elements with fire." Why? It's not his. It's not his. And actually that gets into some context, some Hebraic context of if Christ did not shorten the days, there would be no flesh left alive. the actual Hebraic context of that flesh. It goes back to Hebraic stuff in in Genesis as well too is talking about genetic wholeness. That's actually what that means. So there would be no one who could receive salvation. That's how I've heard it transliterated. It's how I've heard it translated from scholars. If it's wrong, you can blame them. I'm just regurgitating what I've learned. Okay? that what it says if Christ Christ did not shorten the days there would be no one left who could receive salvation because they're not his.

So it's my speculation when you look at the antichrist every single detail of the antichrist is an exact counterfeit of Christ exact to the tea from death and resurrection mortal womb blah blah blah you have the father son holy spirit you have the father the false son the false holy spirit false prophet right everything's an exact replica that's why he goes to the temple that's why he does what he does where he does it he's trying to mimic to every degree Christ and in fact including like Armageddon they're going to spend World War II as if it's the battle of Armageddon. It's not. It's World War II. What's coming with Russia, China, Iran, they're going to spin it as if it was the battle of Armageddon. So when the Antichrist comes on the scene, you think it's the millennial reign. It's not the millennial reign of Christ. It's the reign of the Antichrist.

It's like everything's an exact counterfeit, including the mark. God says, "Let it be a mark between the front lid of your eyes or on your hand." What's the beast system do? I'm going to put a mark on your forehead. Everything's an exact counterfeit. So, I'm going somewhere with that. This is why I speculate that something about this antichrist and this mark will be contained within him because I don't think he's fully human. I think it's something different. Resurrected Nimrod or Apollo, a king who was and was not and is again. That's what the scripture says. Worships gods that nobody knew. His forefathers didn't know. worship the god of fortresses. He can do supernatural signs and wonders.

It's not a man. It's not Trump. It's not Macron. It's not Mal Ben Solomon and all these guys that people want to keep put. It's not Jared Kushner. It's not these guys. It's something way beyond that. Way way way macro. Way beyond that. Look at the attributes of the Antichrist. Because Christ affirmed who he was through signs and wonders. He's going to affirm who he is through lying signs and wonders. He affir It's everything's a direct tip for tat including what I believe will be that you will be healed by his blood. And I believe that whoever this Antichrist figure is, there will be something in his blood that can be reconstituted and reynthesized after a third of the world's population is killed by pestilence and disease and famine that when you take this in to your body now, yes, it's going to rewrite you, but in a good way. So, it's going to be 2.0 humanity 2.0

just like you do an upgrade on your computer. schizm that it will be a genetic upgrade that will not give you immortality but life extension by his wounds by his blood you will be healed just like by the blood of the lamb we are healed and when we take the blood of the lamb and we eat of his body and drink of his blood we are transformed into a new creation it will be the counterfeit over here you do this you'll be tr it's not like you're going to look different but now you are created in their image as we're created in the image of God and there therefore When you receive this thing, that's why your name is stricken out of the lamb's book of life because you're actually not God's. You're not his. You can't be redeemed because you're not his creation. You're their creation. That's how significant it is.

So then you think of a global pandemic or whatever all the other things that come along with it. You usually get war, famine with pandemics and stuff like that where a third of the world's population is killed and it's horrific. It's like a hemorrhagic fever-based thing, like zombie apocalypse, not like what we saw recently where it's like, "Nobody's even really sick. I don't see any bodies in the You're going to see bodies in the streets." It says there will be so many bodies laying around that don't even make a funeral meal for somebody. Don't even try to bury them. Don't even have a memorial service because it'll be impossible. There's going to be so many bodies everywhere all the time. Okay? Right? So that you have this sheared collective conscious traumatic experience over the whole face of the earth. Hemorrhagic fever-based death everywhere.

...This is all we're just doing mental gymnastics here, right? We're wargaming this out. And then they savior flatteries, peace and security, restoration. All the economies collapse because of it. Armies go to war because of it. He comes in, has all the answers, and he goes, "And by the way, there is this particular genetic marker that I have that we've reconstituted and synthesized. We've pumped out all over around the face of the earth. We've made five billion doses of this thing. When you take it, it's going to change you for the better. It's going to give you life extension. It's going to do away with cancer. It's going to do this. And more importantly, it will be a marker that you have been staved off from this pandemic and you can never be a carrier of it again." And to prove it, we are going to match it to your biometric identification and it will be synced to your accounts and it will be synced to your medical history. It will be synced through the internet of things in the internet of body that you are safe to come into the public sphere.

And if you do not have proof of that, you are an outlier and a threat to all of humanity again. Therefore, put them to death. Anybody who does not receive this ought to be put to death because they are a threat to the peace and the security and the stability and the self-directed evolutionary process of the species to progress on. If they don't have the mark, they must be killed. Are we all in agreement? Yes, we're in agreement because of what we all just experienced. And they're going to go and pay attention to who's not taking it. The authentic Christians, kill them. Kill them all. They're archaic. They're outliers. They are a threat. They're unloving.

Did we not hear that the last go around? They don't love. They don't love. They don't love. They don't want peace. They don't want security. They are outliers and they are hostile to the progress of the species. Kill them. Kill them all. Oh, and by the way, because you could potentially be a carrier and it can mutate, you cannot buy or sell. You cannot touch any medium of exchange. You cannot be in any marketplace. You cannot show up to work. You cannot. Didn't we not see the type and shadow of that? We just saw I said I said when that broke out, this is the last softening tactic before the mark of the beast. It was a loss.

And if you take this in you, it reworks your DNA. mRNA does to block this thing from making you sick again. See, we already saw the type and shadow of it. So that's my speculation on the mark of the beast.

[Fifth question...AC from tribe of Dan?] So send it. Good question. I don't know. So his question was, do I think that Antichrist will come out from the tribe of Dan based on what scripture says about the spirit and posture of Dan? I don't know. Uh there is a lot of people I always try to say like what all the different schools of thoughts out there in academia say and then you can sip through it and see which way you lean. But you know there are a lot of people that say the antichrist is 100% Muslim 100%. I don't subscribe to that at all. It's an impossibility. It is literally an impossibility. Other ones will say he's 100% has to be Jewish. Has to be Jewish. I'm like, I'm not so sure. I'm not so sure about that. That he has to be Jewish. Jewish. I see the argument for it. I can see the context in the type of shadow if he's going to be an exact counterfeit of Christ. Maybe I could I can see that. You know, I think it's bigger than that. So, as far as if he comes directly from the tribe of Dan, I don't know. I Here's what I Here's what I do know.

No matter how much scriptures and no matter how much everybody studied and learned and read and memorized and knew that they knew that they knew that they knew that they knew that how the Messiah was going to come at his first advent, they all missed it and they killed him instead

So, what I do know is no matter how much we have, how much we know, how many different uh really well-meaning pure altruistic scholars and theologians and doctrinal people are and people out there that are teaching things, all of it is pure. I have no take no problem with all the different difference of opinions out there on interpretation. I have no problem with it whatsoever. But here's what I do know is we're all going to miss it. We're all We're all gonna we're just like the the Pharisees. How did they miss it? Not only did they miss it, they were hostile towards it. It's going to be the exact same thing at a second. In fact, Christ told us like days of Noah, days of w days days of lot. You're you're literally not going to even it'll be so right in front of your face and you still won't acknowledge it. Just like it was in the days of Noah, just like it days of it will be just like this at the coming of the son of man where it's like nobody saw it coming in that way. Nobody perceived it coming in that way. We all had our kind of our usually our church upbringing ideas of how it's going to play out. And then when it doesn't meet that expectation that we have in our head, we b under the pressure.

And again, I think that's part of God's wisdom to go." It wasn't actually about you weren't seeking my face. You were presumptuous and telling me what I was supposed to do to meet your expectation instead of humbly walking with your God".

[Sixth question] Yes, Megan. Yeah, that's a tough one. So, she asked, "What about the kids, the babies and the kids, you know, especially more in particular with with regards to the mark of the beast and how does that work or God's perspective on that?" I don't know. I do I know two things. I know that God is just and God is faithful and God is kind and God is good. I know that for certain. So babies and children, I I know that he dotes for them. I also know biblically there is kind of an age of accountability laid out biblically. In fact, that's one thing the Jews are really good at is still honoring that and and uh exemplifying that with their bach mitzvah and their bar mitzvah as this coming of age that the sins of the children are no longer going to fall on the father but they will be held accountable for their own sins which is pretty powerfully awesome because that means that burden of command was on the father from 0 to 13 to teach them the great and awesome deeds of the lord so that they won't be stiff necked and rebellious.

So it actually was an accountability for men to be the high priest of their household. So there is there's arguments and debates on that, but there's kind of a general age of accountability historically being 13. But I but then in the same breath and I don't know what to do with this, but I know that it says the sins of the parents will be visited upon the children. You know, I don't know. Like I I don't know. So, so if the parent is a god hater blah blah blah blah blah whatever they are the same mark of the beast or whatever and then they take their kids in to get that as well too is that I don't know I don't know how that works but now if you were so okay so that's one I so so then I guess I'm making a presumption.

I'm presuming that there's no rapture okay so now let's change gears let's operate from from the lens that there is a rapture then All of that's null and void, you know. So, so if if there if you're under the presumption that there is a rapture, pray that you would escape all these things so that you blah blah blah see the glory of God on this and you're not appointed under wrath and there's all the proof text for pre-tribulation rapture. Then all that would be a mute point because the children are at home with God because he's kind and again the age of accountability. So the babies and the children blah blah blah. If anybody looks into NDEs, the near-death experiences and stuff like that, uh, virtually 100% of those that have had NDEs where they experienced heaven and that eternal that that aspect of eternity and God's presence, the only thing, not the only thing, the vast majority of what they mention is the amount of children. You hear that in every near-death experience. The children, the children, there's so many children. There's so many children. Those I mean, think about it. Think about the abortion. Think about uh antiquity. When the when you conquer a people, what do you do? You lay waste all the children.

Like it's historically children have been the singular object of the enemy's wrath because he knows that it offends God's heart more than anything else. Look at our modern our modern culture. What's the centrality of all focus? Children. From our educators, from the women who are supposed to nurture and protect children. They're the ones that want to destroy them. They want to eviscerate them. They want to sear their identities. They want to mute. They want to mutilate them. They want to pervert them. That's coming through the NEA official lobby forward doctrine within our public school system. Who shouts their abortion? The moms. The women. The women march. Shout their who leads all LGBT. The women lead all LBT move. LBG T movements everywhere. The women who led BLM, Antifa, women. And their assault is on children. perpetual assault on children, right? So, I don't know. I just know heaven's filled with them and I know God loves them and I know God dotes for them and I know he says that he will avenge the blood of the innocents. Now, how does that work when you come in? We'll say we believe that the church will be here for the mark of the beast if that's the way you lean. I'm not sure how God deals with that. Is it an act of justice? the parents were god-haters and the sins of the parents fall under the children. I don't know. Say there's preach of rapture. Oh, that's nullified. That's that's a viewpoint. I don't know how it works. So, that's hard one to think about. I don't know. I just I know God's good and I know God's just. So, I have no clue how he walks that out. Each one of the individual. All right. With that, uh, let me pray us out. That's a wrap.
